

Haemodialysis schedule

There are two shifts of dialysis every day, one in the morning and one in the afternoon.

You can be assigned the following shifts:

Monday - Wednesday - Friday (morning or afternoon)
Tuesday - Thursday - Saturday (morning or afternoon)

The allocation of the shift depends on:

- patient occupancy
- the arrangement with patient transport and the health insurance fund
- personal wishes

This will be discussed together with the social nurse and the head nurse.

In principle, this schedule is adhered to, even on public holidays, except for Christmas Day and New Year's Day.

Exceptions:

- Medical investigations or procedures.
- Special personal reasons: always in consultation with the doctor and nurse.
- There is no dialysis on Christmas Day and New Year's Day, but it will be shifted to the Sunday, so you may have dialysis on the Sunday.